IN THE CITY OF LA CROSSE

Little Interest Displayed Here in the Judicial Election

JUSTICE J. C. KLEIST obtained a three-to-one majority over John Kleist in La Crosse county, for re-election to the supreme bench, Tuesday. The vote in this county was the smallest on record in proportion to the voting population, only about one-tenth of the registered electors going to the polls. More votes were cast in the county districts than in the city, owing to the fact that in the rural districts township elections also were held.

Kleist, the socialist candidate, carried four wards in the city, the Third, Eighth, Twentieth and Twenty-second. Jones carried every precinct in the county, and 17 wards in the city.

Following is the vote by precincts for supreme justice:

WOMAN IS ELECTED
SALEM TREASURER;
A. N. MOORE BEATEN

Miss Etta Capper Chosen at Polls; Storandt Succeeds Sprain as Chairman

MOORE, ONALASKA, BEATEN
BY SCHILLING, 100 TO 99

Davis Re-elected; Egger Beats Schams in Greenfield

A BITTERLY contested battle for county supervisor in the second ward, city of Onalaska, and the election of a woman as treasurer of the village of West Salem, were the features of the election of town officers in La Crosse county on Tuesday. Miss Etta Capper was chosen for the post of treasurer of West Salem. She is the first woman to be elected to a public office, other than a school office in La Crosse county.

When the vote was counted, it appeared to be a tie, 99 to 99. When the vote was counted, it appeared to be a tie, 99 to 99. When the vote was counted, it appeared to be a tie, 99 to 99.

One Vote Thrown Out

One vote was thrown out by the election board. A Mr. McKinnon, a teacher in the La Crosse county agricultural school, who is ill in the La Crosse hospital, cast the disputed vote. A notary public from Onalaska went to the hospital on Monday to make out an affidavit and give Mr. McKinnon an absent voter's ballot.

The election board held that the application for a ballot should have been made three days prior to election instead of the day before.

Frank Pierce and W. C. Lowell were elected aldermen from the second ward. J. A. Skogen was re-elected supervisor from the first ward.

Henry Cronk was re-elected alderman in the third ward. Herman Hahn was re-elected supervisor and Ray Gensell the new alderman. He sides the battle between Moore and Schilling, the other election issue.

Onalaska was the question of a vote of 18 for of street to enable the Western Spinning Mills to build on the ground. This resolved itself into a question of electing a majority of aldermen who were in favor of the project, which was done.

Davis' Election Unanimous

In the village of Bancroft, O. O. Hahnback, a new candidate, was elected mayor. All other village officers were re-elected. H. W. Davis, chairman of the county board, was re-elected to office as supervisor in Bancroft. Mr. Davis polled 261 votes, the total cast at the election. He was not opposed by a single vote at either the caucus or election.

William Koenen was re-elected chairman in the town of Washington. Other town officers are Joseph Rutz and Charles Neuberg, supervisors; Joseph Schumacher, clerk; August Hammer, treasurer, and Nick Arenz, assessor.

In the town of Parmington, Wis., John L. Kopp was elected chairman, the office being previously filled by E. W. Storandt, who moved to the village of West Salem last November.

E. W. Storandt was chosen chairman of West Salem, in place of George D. Sprain, who did not seek the office again. Angus Johnson was chosen village president; trustees, O. C. Cullman, a new trustee, G. W. Garlock and J. S. Steenson, old members; town clerk, Benjamin L. Larson; treasurer, Miss Etta Capper; assessor, P. P. Ottman.

William Schams Beaten
All the old officers of the town of Thiel, including Fritz Walter, chairman, were re-elected. John G. Hatz was re-elected chairman of town of Louns, and all other officers were re-elected with the exception of John Griffith, who was newly elected a side supervisor. W. J. Dawson, chairman, town of Campbell, and all other town officers were re-elected.

William Egger defeated William Schams for chairman of the town of Greenfield.

ARTHUR BESSEE
GETS LONG TERM
FOR CAR THEFT

Wife No. 2 of La Crosse Says He Had Million Dollar Imagination and Fifty Dollar Mind

HIGH FLYING ROUNDER GUILTY OF NUMEROUS MISDEMEANORS

Clergyman is Waiting With Charge Until His Present Term Ends

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—"A man with a $1,000,000 imagination and a $50 mind" is the casual estimate of Arthur Harold Bessee, fake aide to British royalty, jail breaker and auto thief, expressed on Tuesday by his second wife, Mrs. Marcelle Siegel Bessee of La Crosse, Wis. She has disclosed that her counsel institute bigamy proceedings against the man whom county Judge William Barium here consigned to Auburn state prison. While the jail breaker's address will be Auburn prison for some time, on account of the five to ten year term imposed for theft of the sport car, with three and a half to seven years additional for violating curfew of the court house jail here, the second Mrs. Bessee will have no monopoly in lodging warrants.

Preacher Also Duped
The Rev. W. W. Allworth of Aurora, Ill., has also retained counsel and intends to have a grand larceny warrant sent to Auburn prison to file in the files until Bessee has squandered his debt with the state of New York.

The clergyman is a distant relative of the man who cut a wide swath in these parts as "aid" to "His Royal Highness" the Governor-General of Canada. Bessee presented a check for $120.17 to the Aurora drive-in. It was cashed, but subsequently was repudiated by the bank of Oronago.

The Onalaska county authorities have received letters from the attorneys retained by both the second wife and the Rev. Mr. Allworth. An amendment will be sought by the second woman that the imaginative adventurer be let to the altar. The knot was tied by Judge H. W. McGowan of Chicago on January 26, 1921.

Was Street Car Man
Bessee bought his second choice a platinum and diamond engagement ring, which was sold for $400 after she was deserted. While he was courting her, he remained in a style equal to that when he told alibists here that he had invented, late in the war, a stabilizing device to prevent an airplane from falling after it was brought to a dead stop in mid-air.

Bessee was a street car conductor in Utah before he doped out his little scheme to pose as an intimate of British royalty.

In La Crosse Mr. Bessee posed as an efficiency expert.

PROPERTY OWNERS
TO DECIDE ON KIND OF STREET PAVING

Given Four Propositions to Consider by the Mayor's Special Committee

BENEFITS MAY BE REDUCED IF CHEAPER PAVEMENT IS DESIRED

Council to Decide After all Bids are Opened

At the meeting of the Mayor's special committee Tuesday evening a resolution was passed requesting the Mayor to make a statement for the press explaining the council's plan of securing estimates and bids on different kinds of paving in certain of the streets in the city of La Crosse. The main purpose of the statement is to correct any existing erroneous opinion held by property owners that the council has decided to put down any particular kind of pavement as yet.

The council has authorized the board of public works to advertise for alternative bids for asphalt-macadam pavement and asphalt-concrete pavement. After the bids have been received it is the intention of the council to select the kind of pavement most desirable, said decision to be made after consultation with as many property owners as possible and by comparison of all bids received for said work.

Four Propositions
In circulating petitions and presenting protests to the board of public works, four questions should be answered by the property owners on streets now proposed for improvement.

First, Do you want any pavement at all?

Second, Do you want Asphalt-Macadam on a concrete base, the cheapest possible pavement costing not to exceed $2.00 per square yard, or about $100.00 per fifty feet lot, for a street thirty feet wide, including grading curbs and gutters. If the bids for the work are less than these estimates, the property owners get the reduction, if the bids are higher than the estimates the city as a whole and not the individuals pays the difference?

Third, Do you want Asphalt-Concrete on a concrete base which is the highest type of Asphalt pavement costing not to exceed $2.50 per square yard or $125.00 per fifty feet lot?

Fourth, Do you want brick to cost about 15 to 20 per cent more than asphalt-concrete or about $3.15 per fifty feet lot?

These estimates have been furnished by the City Engineer.

This statement applies to the following streets:

Fourth street from Jackson street to Mormon Coulee Road.

Fifth street from Market to Mormon Coulee Road.

Ninth street from Cass street to Jackson street.

Gillette street from Caledonia street to George street.

George street from Gillette street to Livingston street.

Caledonia street from Logan street to Gillette street.

George street from Clinton street to Logan street.

Charles street from Gillette street to Solares street.

Market street from Seventh street to Isle la Poudre bridge.

Market street from Seventeenth street to Losey Boulevard.

Mormon Coulee from Jackson street to 8th street.

Sixteenth street from Cass street to Jackson street.

Ferry street from Third street to West Avenue.

Seventeenth street from State street to Jackson street.

Badger street from Third street to Oakland street.

Eleventh street from State street to La Crosse street.

Cass street from Fifteenth street to Losey Boulevard.

Sixth street from Caledonia street to Losey Boulevard.

A CONFERENCE

Labor Committee Proposes Joint Meeting of Operators and Miners in Washington Monday

GOVERNMENT WILL NOT ACT
UNLESS SHORTAGE THREATENS

Only Minor Disorders Have Resulted from Walk-out So Far

INTEREST in the coal strike centered Wednesday in the efforts of the house labor committee at Washington to bring about a conference of operators with the miners looking to a settlement of the walkout which has affected more than half a million of the nation's coal diggers.

Assured by John L. Lewis, president of the miners, that the latter would negotiate with "any representative group" of operators in the central competitive field, even though not all could be induced to deal again with the union, Chairman Nolan of the committee, invited representative operators of that field to meet here Monday with union leaders. While awaiting replies to the invitations the committee continued hearing within its investigation of the coal industry.

Speed Up Negotiations
President Lewis was in New York to speed up negotiations there between operators and miners' representatives which may bring an end to the strike in the anthracite fields, where 125,000 men are idle. Union leaders there doubted favorable action would be taken on the proposal of certain independent anthracite operators to grant the miners' nineteen wage demands if they return to work. The miners' scale committee announced that negotiation of separate contracts was again the international union policy.

Scale committees of operators' associations in Illinois, Ohio and Western Pennsylvania, which are included in the central competitive bituminous area, today announced meetings for tomorrow at which decision would be made on the labor committee invitation to confer.

Non-union Support Uncertain
Union miners in the bituminous field are out 100 percent, leaders say, but the support given them by their non-union brethren is still vague. Miners' notifying them that they held women could not sit on juries served and directing them to continue to compile jury lists for the men voters.

In the event Judge Edwards should rule women may sit on the jury there still remains the question raised by the governor of whether their votes should not be taken into consideration in compiling the jury list which, the law provides, shall include the names of ten per cent of the qualified electors. The defense contends that, even if denied the right to serve, the jury list should consist of ten per cent of the combined list of men and women voters, instead of one-tenth of the men only.

If the governor's plan that women be permitted to serve is granted, another complication is raised by the necessity of remodeling the jury quarters and providing women hallways to watch over the women jurors.

The Lake county court house has two dormitories on the third floor, one with twelve single beds for the jurors and one with four beds for the bailiffs. These would have to be altered and some sort of partitions installed, as the state law prohibits separation of the jurors during a trial. Judge Edwards has announced that the jury will be confined throughout the trial which is expected to last from three to five months.

LA CROSSE RACES WITH SHEBOYGAN IN LAKE PARK FUND

Other Cities of State Watching Progress of the Campaign in this City

La Crosse and Sheboygan, each with a goal of $12,000 as their individual shares in the campaign to raise $200,000 for the purchase of the Northern Lakes park, are running a friendly rivalry this week.

It is a coincidence that these cities, one on the eastern border of the state, the other on the western border, and each with the same amount designated as their goals, should have their campaign dates run almost simultaneously.

La Crosse was a little ahead of Sheboygan in campaigning its campaign organization. But Sheboygan came back fast and started off Tuesday night with a complete and enthusiastic personnel.

The enthusiasm of both cities for the park project is being reflected all over the state. Moreover, the state is watching the results from these cities, and both are striving to go well over their marks.

Other cities are getting under way rapidly. Cedarland and Foster have been selected as chairman at Oshkosh. Mark Catlin, the old Chicago football star, and floor leader of the assembly at the last session, is chairman for Appleton. Ashland and Superior have started work on their personnel, and expect to announce their chairman shortly.

Racine and Kenosha in the other corner of the state are also working on their organizations and expect to be ready this week with the names of their chairman and the announcement of their dates.

Milwaukee, which has a goal of $75,000, will start its active solicitation April 24th, ending on May 1st. Former Governor Emmanuel L. Phillips, Milwaukee, chairman, has selected as his aides: Fred A. Schroeder of the Schroeder Lumber Co., vice chairman; Herman Fehr, president of the National Bank of Commerce, treasurer; Clifford L. McMillan, Christian J. Olson, Henry C. Quares, Alfred Reeks and Postmaster Frank J. Schultz, division commanders.

HEROIC EFFORTS OF DOCK WORKER SAVE TRANSPORT

HOLBROOK, N. J.—The former United States army transport, Monicola, veteran of many adventures on the seas, escaped destruction by fire at a local drydock Tuesday through efforts of firemen, assisted by Tom Waidron of Jersey City, an older.

When the blaze was discovered in the engine room, Waidron placed a wet towel around his head, grabbed an axe and fire torch, plunged through clouds of smoke, and burned a hole in a steel bulkhead, through which tons of water were poured by helmeted firemen.

Officials estimated the damage would be between $10,000 and $20,000.

SUPERIOR CLAIMS THREE OF STATE'S SUPREME JUSTICES

Crownhart's Former Law Partner also on Supreme Bench; Vinje also from Superior

MADISON, Wis.—Appointment of Charles H. Crownhart a justice of the supreme court gives Superior the distinction of having furnished three of the seven judges on the high tribunal, chief Justice A. J. Vinje and Justice Walter C. Owen, a former law partner of Justice Crownhart, are the other two representatives of the northern Wisconsin city.

The former law firm of Owen, Crownhart and Poley, is now disrupted with all three members now judges in the state courts. Judge William R. Poley is serving the eleventh circuit court, while his two former law partners are on the supreme bench.

Milwaukee has two justices, Franz C. Eschweiler and Christian Daepfler, while Madison is represented by Justice Burr W. Jones and Wausau by M. B. Rosenberg.

Question has been raised by the appointment of Justice Crownhart, concerning whether or not he can legally sit with the tribunal in deciding the hold case, involving the right of a governor summarily to dismiss a sheriff, and his pardoning power in contempt of court cases.

Members of the court say that they cannot express an opinion on the matter, but it is believed that there is no legal obstacle in the case of a dividing vote on the matter, unless it could be shown that he had advised the governor in pursuing his course of action.

It is said at the court that there is nothing unusual in the delay which attended a decision in the hold matter, because of its importance. The case has been before the court for decision since the middle of January.

Belief is general here that a decision will be given when the court meets next Tuesday, but there is no definite word.

M'CONNELL URGED FOR REVISOR OF STATE STATUTES

La Crosse Lawyer One of those Suggested to Take Place of Crownhart

JUDGES OF SUPREME COURT AND MORGAN NAME SUCCESSOR

Position Pays Five Thousand Dollars Per Year

A. E. McConnell of La Crosse is mentioned in state official circles at Madison as a possible successor to Charles H. Crownhart as revisor of the statutes for the state of Wisconsin.

With the appointment of Charles H. Crownhart as Associate Justice of the Wisconsin Supreme Court a vacancy has been created in the office of Revisor of Statutes, which Mr. Crownhart has been for the past two years. This position is filled by appointment made by the judges of the Supreme Court and the Attorney General.

Under a law passed by the legislature several years ago this office was created and clothed with the responsibility of revising the statutes following each regular session of the legislature. Because of the obsolete laws which the Revisor is able to recommend to the legislature for repeal and because of the fact that all of the laws of the state must be codified by this department it has become one of the most important subsidiary departments to the court.

The position of Revisor was first held by L. J. Nash of Manitowish and upon his resignation Mr. Crownhart was chosen.

Several men have been mentioned in connection with the probable appointment to fill the vacancy. Among these are John McConnell, La Crosse; Arthur P. Bell, Milwaukee; former assistant revisor; William Ryan, Madison; and John Morgan of Appleton. The salary of the position is $5,000 a year. A revision of the laws preparatory to the next session of the legislature is now under way in this department.

ASKS INVESTIGATION OF CHARGES AGAINST ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE

Claim Organization Failed to Report Campaign Expenditures

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Demand for investigation by the department of justice of charges that the anti-saloon league of America had failed to report campaign expenditures as required under the corrupt practices act, was made in the house Tuesday by Representative Tinkham, republican, Massachusetts.

Making the charges himself, Mr. Tinkham declared it would be "absolutely futile" to expect an investigation by congress because of "the complete control of the house by the anti-saloon league and its obedient adherence to the dictates of the league."

DAUGHERTY HITS OPERATORS FOR FAILURE TO NEGOTIATE NEW AGREEMENT WITH UNION

COAL STRIKE WAS UNNECESSARY SAYS ATTORNEY GENERAL

Declares Owners Should Have Consented to Meet Miners in Joint Conference

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Attorney General Daugherty in a statement Tuesday criticized the bituminous coal operators for failure to meet with the miners in joint conference. Mr. Daugherty said that there is no immediate occasion for the government to take a hand in the coal situation and that he sees no evidence of any violation of law in connection with the strike. He said the government will perform its duty if local and state agencies fail to preserve order.

"The government is not undertaking to do anything in the present situation of the coal matter," Mr. Daugherty said. "At no time has the government taken either side as to the merits of the matter in dispute and contention. I was of the same opinion held by the President; the secretary of labor, and practically everybody connected with the government, that the operators should have waited any technical objection and met the miners prior to April 1, notwithstanding the fact that the miners previous to that time had themselves refused to meet the operators. It was no time to stand on technicalities."

Doesn't Look For Disorder

"I see no evidence, and I hope there will be none, of any violation of the law in connection with the so-called strike. Men have a right to quit work and men have a right to employ other men on such terms as may be agreed upon. Fuel is indispensable to transportation and fuel is indispensable to the health and comfort of the people. If there should be any disorder then it will fall upon the several states and localities to see that order is restored. If that cannot be done by local and state agencies, whose obligation it is first to perform these functions, then the government will perform whatever its duty in the premises may be."

No Danger of Famine

Discussing the coal strike situation informally, the attorney general expressed the view that there was no abundance of coal on hand throughout the country to obviate any danger of a coal famine.

He declared he saw no evidence of increases in the price of coal, but stated that the government would not regard price increases with favor because it would be unfair for the coal operators to take advantage of the situation to raise prices. He said he saw no indications of suffering, no danger of a famine even during the fall or next winter, if the strike should be prolonged, as he asserted, both sides had prepared for the present controversy.

Satins retain their suppleness washed this way, says Skinner

William Skinner & Sons
NEW YORK

Lever Bros. Co.,
Cambridge, Mass.

Gentlemen:

We had samples of our various silks laundered in Lux—Peau de Cygnes, Chameuse satins, etc. Each sample was given the number of washings the average silk garment gets in a year.

We found that at the end of the washings none of the silks had stiffened and in no instance did the delicate threads fray or rough up. We noticed particularly that the Peau de Cygnes did not "pull" and that the satins retained their suppleness.

All the silks showed so few signs of wear that it was hard to believe that they had been washed so often. This we think is undoubtedly due to the fact that it is not only unnecessary to rub with Lux, but that the Lux lather is absolutely mild and pure.

These experiments have definitely proved to us that if water alone won't hurt a silk, Lux can't, and we are glad to give it an unqualified endorsement.

Very truly yours,

STATE PROSECUTES AND U. S. DEFENDS IN MURDER TRIAL

Four ex-officers of Prohibition Service on Trial for Killing

SHOT FARMER WHEN SEARCHING HIS WAGON

Trial in Federal Court Because United States Intervened

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—Chaos of a case which has attracted the utmost interest throughout Alabama will begin here April 6 when three federal prohibition officers and a fourth, charged with murder in federal district court, are scheduled to be tried.

The men will be prosecuted by the state of Alabama with the United States district attorney occupying the role of defense attorney. The killing for which they are held responsible was the murder of a farmer by a backwoods prohibition officer, charged by a federal investigation, demand for a public fund subscription of a children of the slain man and instrument of the officers by the county grand jury, after charges of murder had been sworn out by the local coroner.

Charging the men were acting in the line of their duty as day prohibition officers, the government attorneys, consequently government attorneys will represent the defendants. State attorneys will be assisted in their prosecution by Judge R. M. Thompson, probably the most noted criminal lawyer in Alabama, who was retained by citizens to help prosecute.

Farmer Shot
The killing for which the ex-officers will face trial is that of Curtis Tidmore, backwoods farmer, who was shot Sept. 28 last year, while driving a wagonload of vegetables to Birmingham early in the morning.

He died later.
Defendants in the case are W. E. Perkins, T. C. Dews, Jr., and M. W. Lee, who were then United States prohibition officers, and J. B. Thompson, then a Birmingham policeman. Thompson was discharged for his part in the case and the other three are left the federal service.

Federal officers claimed that when they stopped a wagon occupied by Tidmore and Chalmers Huffstuffer to search for liquor, the latter opened fire and that they responded, wounding Tidmore.

Companion's Testimony
Huffstuffer, the only witness aside from the officers, testified at the coroner's inquest that the officers frisked their wifes when they halted the wagon and that the mules started to run.

The officers then opened fire, shooting Tidmore from his seat, and then handuffed him as he lay dying in the road, Huffstuffer testified.

The officers admitted no liquor was discovered under the load of vegetables the farmers were driving. The only weapon produced was an old shotgun, which Huffstuffer said was lying in the bottom of the wagon unloaded. He said the only shells for it were in his pocket.

Probe Demanded
Efforts at the time of the killing to hush up the story caused widespread indignation. News of the killing was at first refused reporters and then the chief prohibition officer declared that no word would be given out about the case.

Citizens of Mount county, where Tidmore River, held a mass meeting, demanding an investigation and demanding the killing.

STATE CANNOT MEET INCREASING DEMAND FOR FARM WORKERS

Men Out of Work Should Communicate With Employment Bureau Advises Knutson

MADISON, Wis.—That there is a rapidly increasing demand for farm labor that is as yet unsupplied was the statement on Wednesday of Director Stephen G. Knutson of the U. S. employment service and member of state industrial commission. Mr. Knutson urged all men out of employment who desire to locate farm work to write to any of the state free employment offices.

"The first of the year we sent out a circular letter to all farmers in the state asking them to register their wants with the state free employment offices," said Mr. Knutson. "In response to this circular our offices are receiving a large number of requests for farm laborers. For the most part we are now unable to fill these requests."

"It is my belief that there are many men now out of work who would welcome this opportunity. They may be put in touch with these openings by registering with any one of our state free employment offices. It is not necessary to register in person for a letter will answer the purpose just as well."

All letters should be addressed to the state free employment office nearest the applicant. These offices are located at Ashland, Green Bay, La Crosse, Madison, Milwaukee, Oshkosh, Racine, Rhinelander, Sheboygan, Superior and Wausau.

FARMER GORED TO DEATH

NENAH, Wis.—Christ Christensen, widely known farmer living at Smith's Station, three miles south of this city, was gored to death in his barnyard when he was attacked by an angry bull, which he was attempting to lead into the barn. Neighbors worked for five hours trying to lasso the bull. Mr. Christensen was treasurer of the town of Nenah and secretary of the Farmers' Equity society, family through the winter by milking her own crop and caring for a little herd of sheep.

A second fund to provide money with which the widow can make a new crop and pay off debts contracted before her husband's death, has just been completed in Birmingham.
Bond forfeited
Trial of the case, originally set for March 6, was delayed when one of the defendants, T. C. Dews, Jr., failed to appear and his bond was ordered forfeited.

Dews, it was reported in court, was in jail in Savannah, Ga. Government attorneys also claimed that newspaper stories had inflamed public opinion and made a fair trial impossible.
Witnesses for the state will be Tidmore's widow and numerous neighbors, who will testify to his good character, while Huffstuffer, his companion, will be the chief state witness.

A fourth prohibition officer, who shared in the raid but was not injured, will be the leading defense witness if he can be located. He failed to appear at the time of the first trial.

State authorities then took to the case. Murder warrants were sworn out following the coroner's inquest and indictments charging murder were returned by the county grand jury.

Tidmore's death left destitute his wife and four little children, the oldest eight. Neighbors paid off a mortgage on Tidmore's little farm, enabling Mrs. Tidmore to support her family through the winter by milking her own crop and caring for a little herd of sheep.

"The first of the year we sent out a circular letter to all farmers in the state asking them to register their wants with the state free employment offices," said Mr. Knutson. "In response to this circular our offices are receiving a large number of requests for farm laborers. For the most part we are now unable to fill these requests."

"It is my belief that there are many men now out of work who would welcome this opportunity. They may be put in touch with these openings by registering with any one of our state free employment offices. It is not necessary to register in person for a letter will answer the purpose just as well."

All letters should be addressed to the state free employment office nearest the applicant. These offices are located at Ashland, Green Bay, La Crosse, Madison, Milwaukee, Oshkosh, Racine, Rhinelander, Sheboygan, Superior and Wausau.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS WIN WAY TO FINALS IN Y. W. TOURNEY

Will Meet Winners of Friday Evening Game for Association Basketball Title

The High School Girl Reserve team won its way into the finals of the Y. W. C. A. basketball tournament by defeating the Vocational School Girl Reserves at the association gymnasium Tuesday evening. The score was 33 to 2.

In the preliminary last night W. B. U. team defeated the Freshmen Girl Reserves in a closely-contested game that was marked by the superior team work and passing of the Freshmen. The Freshmen were only beaten in the last few minutes of play, with the greater endurance and size of their opponents counting against them.

Friday evening of this week two association teams, captained by Thelma Iverson and Con Jangsborg, will meet to determine which shall meet the High School team for the Y. W. C. A. Championship, the game to be played in the Y. gymnasium next Tuesday evening.

The line-ups for last night's games were as follows:

HIGH SCHOOL—Leona Stannard and Maude Halmrast (capt.), forwards; Janet Atkinson and Muriel Schaefer, back guards; Ora Lee, jumping center; Bertha Layton, running center.

VOCATIONAL—School—Fred Buschman and Caroline Schultz, forwards; Freda Geky and Stella Silha, guards; Ruth Olson, jumping center; Julia Riprock (capt.), running center.

FRESHMEN—Evelyn Bayek (capt.) and Blanche Weisbecker, forwards; Mae Goldsmith and Edna Jones, guards; Fern Tausche, jumping center; Henrietta Schaefer, running center.

W. B. U.—Lea Schaefer (capt.) and Sarah Berge, forwards; Palma Johnson and Clarice Thompson, guards; Lucile Neitz, jumping center; Leila Gisel, running center.

RED FABER READY FOR SEASON'S TOIL CRIMPS CHAMPIONS

Sox Hurler Has More Foolers than He Knows What to do With

KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—Mr. Urban (Red) Faber is ready for his summer's toil. He proved as much Tuesday when he went the full route for the first time and emerged with an easy 6 to 2 victory over the champion Giants. It was the fifth time Gleason's men have stepped on McGraw's toes. The titleholders have done the same thing to the Chicagoans three times.

Faber pitched a midseason performance. He had more foolers than he knew what to do with, and he kept the hits so scattered that the Giants could do nothing. With the help of a freak wallop that bounced off Collins' shin in the first, Rawlings was able to get a triple and score. The other run went across in the eighth on two doubles, the only time in which the New Yorkers were able to get more than a lone blow to an inning.

Hop on Shufflin' Phil
The Sox offensive was a revelation. They hopped on aged Phil Douglas without caution, and in seven innings registered eight swats and five runs. A rookie named Benton relieved Shufflin' Phil at the start of the eighth, and the Sox finished their day's work with one more run and one more hit. Incidentally, the fielding of the Sox was nothing to scoff at, even with a kid playing first base. Shuey was not able to occupy his customary place because of a blistered hand.

The Giants were considerably crippled, but even with all the regulars the result might have been the same, because of the form displayed by Faber. Frisch was out with an infected foot. Groh was on the bench with a lacerated hand, and Bancroft was detained in Meridian, by the illness of his wife.

Giants Open Strong
The only time the Giants had an edge was in the first, and the Sox immediately countered with one in their half on a pass to Johnson, a sacrifice, and Collins' single. Things went along smoothly until the fifth, when the Chicagoans got two on a pass to Mostil, a double by Schalk, and a single by Faber.

Mostil's triple, a double by Bubser, and a single by Faber added two more in the seventh. Collins scored the last run in the eighth. The teams play here again Wednesday.

Proctor won the six-day bike race, but they didn't know he was French until it was all over.

A Complete Cycle of Service

IN directing the affairs of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) the 7 men responsible for its management and success keep constantly before them the ideals of service which have animated the organization in its development.

They are ever mindful of the fact that the service rendered by this Company bears a close and intimate relation to the progress, success and prosperity of practically every other industry. And that it has a major bearing on many professional and highly specialized branches of business.

They recognize the grave responsibility of supplying petroleum products to those who use the internal combustion engine as a source of power, and to those who depend upon this Company to lubricate their equipment in such manner as to conserve the power and the machinery which it operates.

These are the major and more obvious services rendered, but equal attention is given to problems affecting an individual or a small group.

This service may take the form of expert advice as to the best method of lubricating a single machine, it may be something to reduce the labor of the housewife, or to assist the medical profession in serving humanity. It may be a new kind of pavement or a method to increase or conserve the food supply.

These are but a few of the hundreds of ways in which Standard Oil service, positive and clearly defined, is helping and adding to the efficiency and economy of business generally.

As an example of how far this service is carried, we may mention the recently developed burning oil, Neolite, which supplies a growing demand for an oil used primarily in incubators and brooders, where a steady, unvarying heat must be maintained over a considerable period of time. To those who use incubators and brooders, Neolite is of great value.

While it is probable that the sales of this product will never attain a large volume, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) adds it to its long list of useful products that it may further discharge its obligation in rendering a complete cycle of service to 25 million people of 11 Middle Western States.

HUNTER ENTITLED TO BOUNTY; SLAYS UNBORN WOLF CUBS

Cleve Sacia, Galesville Warden, Gets Opinion from Assistant Attorney General

Slaying a she-wolf with unborn cubs entitles the Wisconsin hunter to the $1 legal bounty for each of the cubs in addition to that for the mother, M. E. Grossard, assistant attorney general, on Tuesday advised the Wisconsin conservation commission.

Cleve Sacia, a Galesville game warden, had written to the conservation commission asking if he was entitled to a bounty in such a case, in which he had slain a female wolf in a wolf hunt in State park at Trempealeau.

"It would be paradoxical to say that they were not cubs, and yet had been killed," the attorney said.

"With reference to bounties, unborn cubs are regarded by both civil and divine law as existing human beings," Grossard's opinion said.

STRAWBERRIES IN GREAT DEMAND ON CHICAGO MARKETS

Shipments During Past Week Double Those of Preceding Seven Days

CHICAGO, Ill. — The strawberry season is coming on apace. The growing demand for strawberries and cream is indicated in the weekly summary of the fruit and vegetable markets prepared by the United States bureau of markets. Total shipments of strawberries for the period from March 26 to April 1 increased to 112 cars compared with 51 cars for the preceding week. This is only about half the volume for the same week last year, however. The markets throughout the country were firm under limited supplies.

Shipments of green important lines of fruit, the market review shows, increased during the week ending April 1 to 9, 118 cars compared with 8,682 the preceding week. Most of the increase in volume was in potatoes, spinach, cauliflower and bearded potatoes showed some decrease.

Reviewing market conditions for the week ending April 3 the report shows that onions held their recent gains with Texas early Bermudas appearing in several cities. Florida early reached the seasons high point. Potato markets were generally steady and new Florida stock met fair demand. Cabbage markets were firm for flat stock and weaker for pointed types. Sweet potatoes showed some decline. Apples held nearly steady in the consuming centers.

TIME OF ELECTION NOT CHANGED BY NEW CHARTER LAW

A rumor that La Crosse had defaulted on a city election Tuesday required under the provisions of the new general charter law, caused considerable excitement in city hall circles today, until City Attorney Oscar J. Swenson announced there was "nothing to it."

"The city election in La Crosse will be held at the usual time, a year hence," said Mr. Swenson. "The new general charter law contains a savings clause which provides that no radical change in the system of city government shall be made except in accordance with chapter 62 of the statutes. The time of election of city officers has not been changed in La Crosse. Officers elected a year ago will serve out the terms for which they were elected at that time."

The savings clause, referred to, known as subdivision 1 of section 61.01 of the Wisconsin statutes, is as follows:

"All officers, the terms of office and the manner of selection of officers shall continue until changed by ordinance adopted by a two-thirds vote of all members of the council to conform to chapter 62 of the statutes."

JANESVILLE ADOPTS MANAGER PLAN OF CITY GOVERNMENT

Second City in State to Approve Plan; Women Big Factor in the Election

JANESVILLE, Wis. — Janesville became the second city in the state to adopt the city manager plan of municipal government as a result of a referendum election Tuesday. In a referendum that was marked by very little excitement until the very last day, the women of the city in a perfectly organized and carried the election by 714 majority. The vote was 2,005 for and 2,887 against. Mrs. Alcott Helms led the women forces and Thomas Hovey, wealthy cotton manufacturer, was chairman of the commission opposed.

The manager plan as adopted in Janesville provided for the election of a council of seven members at large and they in turn to select a city manager. The new plan of government will not go into effect until April 1, 1925.

In The MOVIES

HAROLD LLOYD—RIVOLI

Waves of laughter, gales of mirth, scenes of joy, all these in "A Sailor-Made Man" which closes today at the Rivoli.

Never has Harold Lloyd had such a sea-worthy craft as this. Never did he start out on such an auspicious voyage. It is a superlative comedy, only with no limitation on laughter. "A Sailor-Made Man" for lavish sets, for sumptuous scenes, for atmosphere, for motion picture, for consistent laughs, for human touches, for consistent laughs, has them all. And the settings are the last word in perfection. First, Abington Arms, a fashionable summer resort. Then the interior of a U. S. Navy Recruiting Office. Then a deck of an actual fighting craft, the U. S. S. Frederick. The crew's quarters below decks, the bridge, the gun decks.

Ask any boy who was in the Navy, he'll tell you how real it is! Then the detailed perfection of a street scene in a picturesque Oriental town. Not a two or three house set, but a real street, with bazaar and a surrounding crowd of natives and street factors. And then the sumptuous and magnificent palace and harbor of the Maharajah, with its towers and minarets, its sunken pools, its treasures. And don't forget the beautiful dancing girls.

WINONA COLLEGE GIVES SCHOLARSHIP TO LOCAL HIGH

The College of St. Teresa of Winona, Minnesota, has offered a college scholarship to the La Crosse High School, which is to be awarded to the "honored" girl in the graduating class of 1922. The scholarship covers the full amount of the tuition for the college year, for the present valued at $150.00 and may be renewed for three consecutive years, or for four years in all, in favor of the student if the young woman continues to maintain a perfect high rank in her work.

Similar scholarships are being offered to a selected number of high schools on the accredited list of the North Central Association, in order to encourage young women with an ambition for leadership to prepare themselves for the various fields of service and opportunity now open to college-trained women.

The Life Line

"Do you know anything about matrimony, Herbert?" she asked. "Oh, not much," he answered with an air of modesty. "Not a great deal, although I had an experience last night which might be considered a remarkable example of the art you mention. I happened to glance at the hand of a friend, and I immediately predicted he would presently become the possessor of a considerable amount of money. Before he left the room he had a nice little sum handed to him."

"And you foretold that from his hand?"

"Yes, it had four aces in it." — St. Paul News.

SHOT BECK WHEN HE SOUGHT TO ATTACK WIFE CLAIMS DAY

Had no Thought of Killing Officer, He Says, But Gun Went off Accidentally

TRIPLE INQUIRY INTO THE SHOOTING LAUNCHED TODAY

Inquest into Death of Aviation Officer to be Held Saturday

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla.—Preparations were made Wednesday to launch three separate inquiries into the events surrounding the death of Lieutenant Colonel Paul Ward Beck, pioneer army aviator and assistant commandant of Post Field, Fort Sill, Oklahoma, who was killed by Jean P. Day, wealthy oil operator and prominent Oklahoma attorney, in the latter's home here early Tuesday morning, when, according to Day, Beck was found attacking Mrs. Day.

A civil investigation by county authorities will determine the charges to be filed against Day in connection with the killing.

A military commission of three army officers will come here from Post field and investigate the killing.

A third inquiry got under way when M. F. Meadows, federal prohibition director for Oklahoma, began to check up to ascertain whether liquor might have had a part in the party which preceded the killing of Lieutenant Colonel Beck.

County officials were running down various angles of the tragedy in preparation for the inquest on Saturday. It has not yet been determined whether Day or his wife will take the stand at the inquest.

In the event that Day and his wife decline to take the stand at the inquest, County Attorney Hughes pointed out, he could then file a charge of murder.

Day, in an interview, declared he had no thought of killing Beck, when he returned to his home, and he alleged, found the army officer attempting to assault Mrs. Day. His only intent, Day said, was to drive Beck from his home.

Day declared when he encountered Beck the army officer drew back one hand. It was then, Day said, that he struck Beck on the head with the revolver. The discharge of the weapon was accidental, he asserted.

Declaring he "killed Beck like a brother," Day asserted he acted as most any "red blooded American" would find his confidence violated, his home invaded and his faithful wife insulted and violently attacked.

A statement was made Wednesday by Mrs. Day, giving for the first time her version of the killing. She was under the care of a nurse.

"Beck visited our home on numerous occasions," Mrs. Day said. "One time he called when Mr. Day was away, but it was a very brief visit. However, each time he called previous to Monday night, he acted as a perfect gentleman in every respect, coming into our home merely as a friend and one whom we were glad to see because of his geniality."

"Early Tuesday morning, however, after Mr. Day left in the automobile to take the other guests home, he seized me by the wrists, threw me around me. It was a total surprise to me. Nothing like that ever occurred before, and I was dumbfounded by his action. As he held me he made improper proposals to me. I struggled vainly to free myself from his grasp."

"It was while I was thus struggling that Mr. Day opened the door and walked in. He immediately went upstairs. It seems to me that several minutes must have passed before I heard him coming down the stairs again. I remember very distinctly that he was standing on the landing with a pistol in his hands. When I first saw him, I was terrified. I remember distinctly that I screamed several times.

"After that, I remember nothing more. Weakened by the struggle to free myself from Beck's grasp, I felt myself fainting."

"What happened after I saw Mr. Day on the landing there, I am unable to tell. I just remember that everything seemed to dim before my eyes and faded out."

PLACE TARIFF ON UNEXPOSED FILM

WASHINGTON—A tariff duty of one-half a cent a foot on unexposed moving picture films was agreed upon Tuesday by republican members of the senate finance committee. The duty proposed in the Fordney bill was 20 per cent ad valorem, American valuation.

On exposed films the committee majority adopted the Underwood law now in force as against the 20 per cent ad valorem proposed in the Fordney bill. The Underwood rates are two cents a foot on negatives exposed but not developed; three cents a foot on negatives exposed and developed and one cent a foot on positives.

HEN AS A MOTHER PASSING INTO THE DISCARD IN STATE

"Biddy" Being Replaced by the Incubator to Increase Size of Hatching

MADISON, Wis.—The mothering hen with her chicks is rapidly passing into the discard on Wisconsin poultry farms, where the incubator is now at work producing a larger hatching than ever before, according to J. C. Halpin, chief poultryman for the college of agriculture.

The poultry industry of the state is booming, Mr. Halpin said, pointing out that with "biddy" a union worker, the need for an early hatching season has necessitated the introduction of incubators in large numbers. The tendency to breed for higher egg production, he also reported, tends to make hens less broody.

Establishment of accredited hatcheries in the state is said to have stimulated greater interest in chicken raising. The state department of nursing has already inspected and accredited 1 hatcheries in Jefferson, Dane, Waushara, Dodge, Sauk, Washburn, Juneau, Milwaukee, Racine and Richland counties.

Wisconsin standard chicks from inspected hatcheries bear the department of markers' trade mark and are from inspected stock. H. M. Luckie, in charge of poultry and egg marketing, points out. No other hatcheries in the country are under state regulation and inspection.

The single comb white leghorns are said to be the most popular chicken on Wisconsin farms.

John D. says it is impossible to get a money monopoly. John, however, hasn't quit trying.
